

Teaching in Semester 1 2020

Programme – BA (Hons) Culinary Arts Management

[Please note: The UG and PG Culinary Arts Management programmes are currently undergoing revalidation, and therefore the course content will change from its current structure regardless of Covid restriction and adjustments. This document will consider all changes related to the revalidation as well as short term adjustments during restrictions]

All theory lectures, seminars, tutorials and Graduate Advantage sessions can be adapted to be delivered either online remotely, online from campus, or face to face on site, as per restrictions and guidance

Level of Study – 6

Teaching pattern in 2020-21 academic year:

Module number	Module Name	Module Credits	Compulsory Optional	Lectures	Practicals	Seminars and small group teaching	Other teaching e.g. tutorials
121	Culinary Product Innovation & Creativity	20	Compulsory	Weeks 1-6 / 11-12 3 hour lecture ONLINE	Weeks 7-10 3 hour Kitchen FACE2FACE	None	None
052	Hospitality Operations Management	20	Compulsory	2 hour lecture each week ONLINE	None	1 hr per week ONLINE	None
086	Research Project	40	Compulsory	Weeks 2-8 1 hour dissertation lecture ONLINE	None	None	None

[NOTE – All theory sessions can be delivered blended face to face on campus and/or remotely online]

Please note that hours per week are an average across term time tuition, and may vary across the weeks.

Where there is a choice of online or face to face teaching, students will be given a deadline to make the decision on whether to study online or face to face during online enrolment. After that deadline, swapping between online and face to face teaching may not be possible, though we will try to accommodate changes where we can.

Are there any changes to the content of the course, compared with what was agreed previously?

The course has been 'revalidated' as part of our normal course review process. This means there have been changes to some module titles, and some of the content, to keep it up to date. You can see full details on the course page of our website.

Are there any changes to the assessment methods we are using?

Planned exams are likely to be replaced by coursework.

Are there any changes to previously advertised field trips, placements, enrichment activities or other external activities?

None planned

When might what is set out above change?

We intend to use the teaching methods set out above for the whole of Semester 1 of the 2020-21 academic year.

If there are more severe restrictions on movement or gatherings as a result of changed government guidance (e.g. in the event of another wave of Coronavirus), teaching that is planned to be on campus may have to be moved online. In that instance all of the face-to-face "on campus" theory teaching for your course would be delivered online until restrictions are lifted, and any planned practical activities will either be postponed or adapted as appropriate.

At the moment we intend that semester 2 teaching will be on campus and face-to-face for all students on this course, although we will continue to make use of our extensive online resources to supplement on-campus teaching. However, if restrictions on movement or group size continue, we would need to continue to offer your course in a blended way, in a similar pattern to that described above. We will let you know as soon as possible if we think that is likely to happen, but decisions may need to be taken at short notice where we are obliged to act on changes to national or local advice.
