- (a) financial support via Student Finance England, Wales, Northern Ireland or SAAS; or
- (b) an official letter from an employer or a sponsor indicating responsibility for the payment of your fees in full or part; or
- (c) you have been awarded a full or partial tuition fee bursary or scholarship, which will be deducted from the full fee amount.

It is your responsibility to ensure that, where applicable, a copy of the appropriate funding documentation, as referred to above, is submitted to the University at enrolment or as soon as possible thereafter.

If you enrol on the basis that you are or will be applying for tuition fee waiver (full or part-time), bursary or other University funding source, you will be obliged to pay the full amount due if the application is not approved.

If you are self-funding and have to pay your own fees, payment can be made in various ways as set out at:

2. The University will do all that it reasonably can to provide educational services as described in the prospectus or in other documents issued by it and on the University's website, to appropriately enrolled students. Despite taking all reasonable steps to prevent them occurring, sometimes circumstances beyond the control of the University mean that it cannot provide such educational services. Examples of such circumstances include, but are not limited to:

- (a) industrial action by University staff or third parties;
- (b) the unanticipated departure of key members of University staff;
- (c) power failure;
- (d) acts of terrorism;
- (e) damage to buildings or equipment;
- (f) the acts of any governmental or local authority; or
- (g) where the numbers recruited to a course are so low that it is not possible to deliver an appropriate quality of education for students enrolled on it.

In these circumstances, the University will take all reasonable steps to minimise the resultant disruption to those services and to affected students by, for example, offering affected students the chance to move to other courses or institution, or by delivering a modified version of the same course. Neither the University nor the applicant/student, however will be liable to the other for loss or damage arising from matters outside the party's control and which could not have been foreseen or prevented, even if that party had taken reasonable care.

3. The University will use all reasonable endeavours to deliver the course in accordance with the description applied to it in the University's prospectus for the academic year in which you begin the course. However, the University will be entitled to make reasonable changes to the course where that will enable the University to deliver a better quality of educational experience to students enrolled on the course.

Such changes may be to:

- (a) the content and syllabus of programmes, including in relation to placements;
- (b) the timetable, location and number of classes;
- (c) the timing, content or method of delivery of programmes of study; and
- (d) the examination and assessment process.

In making any such changes, the University will aim to keep the changes to the minimum necessary to achieve the required quality of experience and will notify and consult with affected students in advance about any changes that are required. If the University changes your course and you are not satisfied with the changes, you will be offered the opportunity to withdraw from the programme and, if required, reasonable support to transfer to another.

4. The University does not exclude or limit liability for its negligence or negligent omission which causes personal injury or results in death. Sporting activities are, however, undertaken at students' own risk and the University accepts no liability for any personal injuries or death except where that is caused by the negligence of the University's staff, agents or subcontractors. The University does not exclude or limit in any way its liability for fraud or fraudulent misrepresentation. The University does not accept responsibility and expressly excludes liability to the full extent possible under the general law for loss or damage to students' property, for the non-return of work submitted for assessment or for infection of students' equipment caused by computer viruses, and for the consequences of any such damage.

5. By accepting the offer of a place at the University, you confirm and declare that the information you have provided in support of your admission to and enrolment with the University is accurate and complete to the best of your knowledge. The University requires all students to provide proof of identity and qualifications at point of registration.

If false, incomplete or misleading information is provided by an applicant or student or if the applicant or student's circumstances change prior to enrolment, the Vice-Chancellor and Principal reserves the right to refuse admission and to require the student's withdrawal if, in the Vice-Chancellor's and Principal's view, it is not in the best interests of, or conducive to the maintenance of good order in, the University for the applicant and/or student to be a member of the University. Before exercising this right, the Vice-Chancellor and Principal will give the affected applicant/student the opportunity to make representations.

6. On enrolment, you will be allocated with a University email account. The University will send regular email communications to that account and will also post information that will be relevant to you on Canvas, the Virtual Learning Environment (VLE). You will also be asked to provide a personal email address at enrolment and, if necessary, the University may send email communications to you at that address. You are expected to use your University email account or a personal email address which you have registered with the University for all communications with University staff. It is your responsibility to check these accounts and the notifications posted on Canvas regularly. Any communication sent to you by the University to your University or registered personal email account will be regarded as properly sent and received by you.

7. You will be required as a condition of enrolment and as a term of the contract between you and the University to abide by, and to submit to, the University's Regulations, Rules, Codes, Policies and Procedures that apply to enrolled students as amended from time to time ("the Regulations"), which relate, among other things, to conduct and discipline, complaints, use of facilities, including IT facilities, health and safety, administration, assessment and the requirements of academic programmes. These policies, procedures, rules and regulations are available on the University's website. The core Regulations can be found here

Key provisions of these rules and regulations of which you should be aware include:

(a) The University's expectations as regards student attendance, academic due diligence, and academic progress. Failure to meet these expectations may mean that you are not permitted to progress with your course.

(b) The University's rules regarding academic misconduct, including plagiarism. Breach of these rules may result in a disciplinary process and the imposition of academic penalties and/or expulsion.

(c) The University's rules regarding payments of sums due to the University. If you do not pay money that you owe to the University, the University reserves the right to withdraw its services and/or your right to use its facilities where it is necessary and proportionate to do so. In deciding whether to do so, the University will consider all the circumstances of your case.

(d) The University's Disciplinary Code, which sets out our expectations of student behaviour. Breach of the Code could result in a disciplinary process which might result in expulsion from the University. The Disciplinary Code can be found in the General Student Regulations, which can be located at:

<http://www.ucb.ac.uk/downloads/policies-and-procedures/student-administration-and-support/general-student-regulations.pdf>

(e) The University's rules of governing fitness to practise and professional standards, which applies to students on professionally regulated courses which lead to or satisfy the conditions of a professional qualification or confer a licence to practise in a particular profession. A failure to observe these requirements may call into question a student's fitness to practise and result in a disciplinary process and imposition of sanctions, including expulsion from the University.

(f) The requirement that applicants to professional courses undergo an enhanced Disclosure Barring Service check (organised by the University) before they can be enrolled on these courses, and the statutory requirements regarding qualifications by association. Depending on the outcome of these checks, you may not be eligible to enrol on or continue on these courses.

(g) The University's Fitness to Attend policy, which can be found in the General Student Regulations and describes the steps the University may take if there are concerns about your health and wellbeing that raise questions about your fitness and suitability to continue to study.

8. UCB will include all eligible students in The Kick-Start Scheme, which provides students with funds for learning materials (for more information visit www.ucb.ac.uk/kickstart). The Scheme is run in conjunction with the John Smith's Group. Some students may also be eligible to receive an electronic tablet to assist with their studies under a pilot scheme. By agreeing to this contract you also agree to the terms and conditions of The Kick-Start Scheme (which can be found at:

<https://www.ucb.ac.uk/downloads/policies-and-procedures/student-administration-and-support/terms-conditions-for-the-kick-start-scheme-funds.pdf>) and The Kick-Start Scheme Electronic Tablets Pilot (which can be found at: <https://www.ucb.ac.uk/downloads/policies-and-procedures/student-administration-and-support/terms-conditions-for-the-kick-start-scheme-electronic-tablets-pilot.pdf>).

9. The University reserves the right to add to, delete or make reasonable changes to the Regulations where, in the opinion of the University, this will assist in the proper delivery of education. Changes are usually made for one or more of the following reasons:

- (a) to review and update the Regulations to ensure they are fit for purpose;
- (b) to reflect changes in the external environment, including legal or regulatory changes, changes to funding or financial arrangements or changes to government policy, requirements or guidance;
- (c) to incorporate sector guidance or best practice;
- (d) to incorporate feedback from students; and/or
- (e) to aid clarity or consistency of approach.

Any changes will normally come into effect at the start of the next academic year, although some may be introduced during the academic year where the University reasonably considers this to be in the interests of students or where this is required by law or other exceptional circumstances. The University will take all reasonable steps to minimise disruption to students, wherever reasonably possible, for example, by giving reasonable notice of changes to Regulations before they take effect, or by phasing in the changes, if appropriate. The updated Regulations will be made available on the University's website and may be publicised by other means so that students are made aware of any changes.

10. The University is committed to providing an inclusive and accessible environment, and strives to make reasonable adjustments to accommodate individual needs. Notification of disability early in the recruitment process enables the University to engage with you and discuss your support needs more effectively. Students on regulated, vocational programmes are required to notify the University of any disability which may impact on their ability to complete the programme and to be fit to practise on completion of their studies, and offers are conditional upon a satisfactory Occupational Health assessment. All offers are conditional upon the University being able to implement the specific adjustments reasonably needed for you to complete your programme. The University is more likely to be able to implement such adjustments in a prompt and timely fashion if you notify of any disability early in the recruitment process and you engage in any necessary discussions or health assessments as required by the University.

11. If you are a Non-EU student, you may need a student visa to take up your place at the University. Further information about visas can be found at <https://www.ucb.ac.uk/our-courses/international/visas-and-immigration/visas-and-immigration.aspx>

12. It is your obligation to make sure you continue to comply with the terms and conditions in your visa. If your visa is revoked for any reason, the University reserves the right to terminate its contract with you.

13. If any provision of the contract between you and the University is held to be void or unenforceable in whole or in part by any court or other competent authority, that contract shall continue to be valid as to the other provisions contained in it and/or the remainder of the affected provision.

14. The contract between you and the University shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of England and Wales and the parties agree to submit to the jurisdiction of the courts of England and Wales.

15. The University's contract with its students does not confer third party benefits for the purposes of the Contract (Rights of Third Parties) Act 1999.
