At University College Birmingham,

we believe that:

- Children and vulnerable people should never experience abuse of any kind
- We have a responsibility to promote the welfare of all children and vulnerable people, to keep them safe and to practice in a way that protects them.

We recognise that:

- the welfare of children and vulnerable people is paramount in all the work we do and in all the decisions we take; all students have an equal right to protection from all types of harm or abuse
- some students are additionally vulnerable because of the impact of previous experiences, their level of dependency, communication needs or other issues
- working in partnership with children, vulnerable people, their parents, carers, and other agencies is essential in promoting children's and vulnerable people's welfare.

We will seek to keep children and vulnerable people safe by:

- valuing, listening to and respecting them
- appointing a designated safeguarding lead (DSL), a deputy designated safeguarding lead (DDSL) and a lead governor for safeguarding
- ensuring that all our governors training at the point of induction to ensure their understanding of their important strategic role, as well as their legislative responsibilities, and those set out by their local multi-agency safeguarding arrangements, and that this is regularly updated
- Implement effective safeguarding policies and procedures and reviewing these annually
- implementing an effective online safety policy and related procedures
- providing effective management for staff and volunteers through supervision, support, training, and quality assurance measures so that all staff and volunteers know about and follow our policies, procedures, and behaviour codes confidently and competently
- recruiting and selecting staff and volunteers safely, ensuring all necessary checks are made
- recording, storing, and using information professionally and securely, in line with data protection legislation and guidance

- sharing information about safeguarding and good practice with students through their induction, the curriculum, the college's website and portals, and other appropriate media
- making sure that children, vulnerable people, and staff know where to go for help if they have a concern

- using our safeguarding procedures to share concerns and relevant information with agencies who need to know, and involving children, vulnerable people, parents, families, and carers appropriately

- using our procedures to manage any allegations against staff and volunteers appropriately

- creating and maintaining an anti-bullying environment and ensuring that we have a policy and procedure to help us deal effectively with any bullying that does arise

- ensuring that we have effective complaints and whistleblowing measures in place.

- ensuring that we provide a safe physical environment for our children, young people, staff and volunteers, by applying health and safety measures in accordance with the law and regulatory guidance

- building a safeguarding culture where staff, students, and visitors to UCB, treat each other with respect and are comfortable about sharing concerns.

- Understanding our duty to provide a safe environment to learn and work, including when online. Recognising that filtering and monitoring are both important parts of safeguarding learners and staff from potentially harmful and inappropriate online material and taking an effective approach to online safety so that we can protect and educate learners and staff in their use of technology and establish mechanisms to identify, intervene in and escalate any incident where appropriate.
